

ACTION TEAM

The SJRMP Action Team directs the activities of the subcommittees and provides a forum for their interaction. Through this process, proposals are developed for approval by the Advisory Council.

The Action Team patterns its actions according to specific items identified in the legislation. The Action Team has accomplished the following:

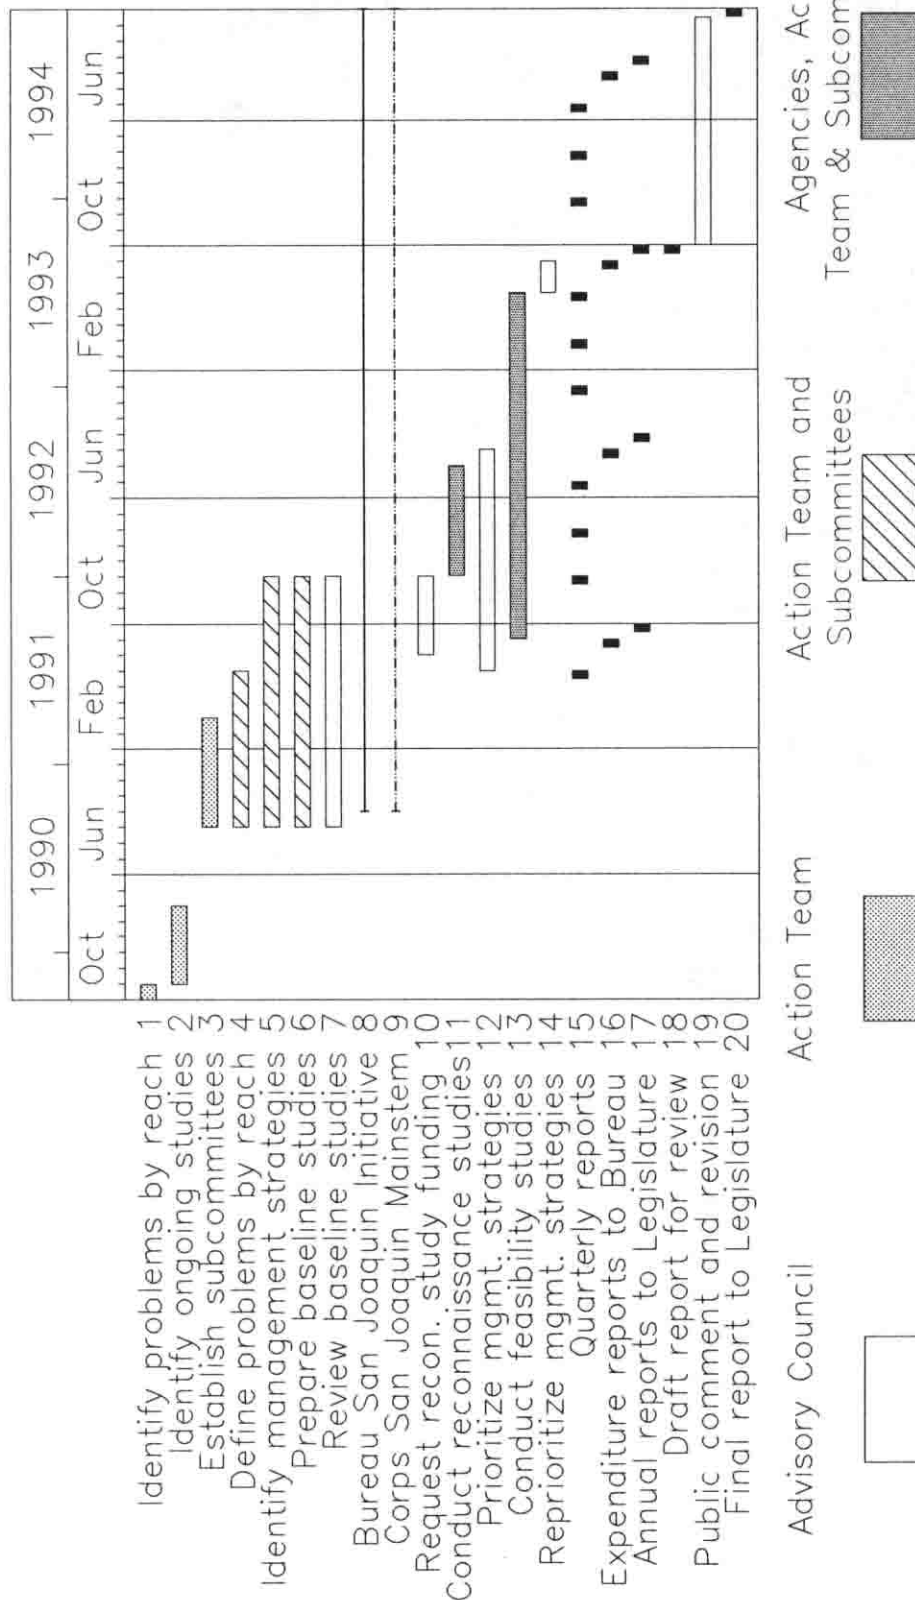

- Identified ongoing studies concerning the San Joaquin River. This information is used to avoid duplicating efforts, make the best use of existing information, and coordinate and combine efforts wherever possible (see Appendix B).
- Identified and described issues and problems (see Appendix C). These continue to be refined as work progresses.
- Completed the first quarterly report of SJRMP progress in July 1991. The report was distributed to Secretary for Resources Douglas Wheeler, legislators within the study area, Advisory Council members, and others upon request.
- Researched and proposed establishing a San Joaquin River geographic information system (GIS) to be used as a planning and management tool by SJRMP subcommittees as well as other river planners.
- Developed a work plan to assist in coordinating tasks and establishing due dates. A copy of the most recent workplan is shown on Figure 3.

The Action Team generates information which is compiled in a SJRMP binder (a table of contents of the binder is provided in Appendix A). The binder is a dynamic document which contains records of SJRMP efforts as well as provides a method of organizing and easily accessing the most recent steps taken by SJRMP. Binders are provided to any individual working directly with SJRMP and others upon request.
